2.0 DBsign Data Security Suite Licenses

a) Product Name: DBsign Server-Side License

Manufacturer's Part Number: DBS-SSM-001

Product Description: The DB^{sign} Server-Side License includes the following modules: DB^{sign} Core Module, DB^{sign} Audit Logging Module, DB^{sign} Resolution Module, DB^{sign} Administrator.

The DB^{sign} Core Module allows an application to use Digital Signature Templates to retrieve data to be signed from the database. It facilitates the storage of digital signature information in the database to be used in signature verification. DB^{sign} Core Module also manages data that are necessary for strong certificate-based authentication.

The DB^{sign} Audit Logging Module enables the audit logging feature of DB^{sign}. The audit log records the operations and transactions a user makes while using the system. Other DB^{sign} modules use the audit logging feature to record security related actions, but applications can also define their own custom audit log events.

The DB^{sign} Resolution Module uses both the DB^{sign} Core Module, and the DB^{sign} Audit Logging Module. When a digital signature fails to verify, this module allows the user to see the data change(s) causing the failure. The DB^{sign} Administrator module makes it easy to create and manage every aspect of the DB^{sign} Data Security Suite. It includes a Signature Template Designer to speed up the process of identifying the data to be digitally signed.

Warranty: See DB^{sign} Data Security Suite Warranty.

b) Product Name: DBsign JavaScript Web Signer (JSWS)

Manufacturer's Part Number: DBS-JSWS-001

Product Description: The DB^{sign} JavaScript Web Signer runs in the Client-Side web browser and performs SSL communication via the user's web browser for authentication purposes, and expands the operations of DBsign to include mobile devices and DBsign Derived Signatures™ processing.

The DBsign Derived Signature processes include identification and authentication of the user; the generation of CMS/PKCS #7 digital signatures; and the verification of such signatures. The Derived Signature process works similarly to duties of a Notary Public. First, your proof of identification is presented to the Notary Public. Then, the Notary Public serves as a witness that you signed the document and puts the Notary Public stamp on it.

Warranty: See DB^{sign} Data Security Suite Warranty.

c) Product Name: DBsign PDF Document Signer License

Product Description: The DB^{sign} PDF Signer License extends DBsign's capabilities of digitally signing to include the Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) thus having one tool to sign databases, executable files, and documents. One advantage is the ability to sign the PDF documents as they are generated by a database application without leaving the web browser and opening a client-side application.

The license allows two types of signatures to sign PDF documents: Visible signatures and invisible signatures. Visible signatures appear as a PDF signature field in the visible, printable PDF document itself. Invisible signatures only appear within the Graphical User Interface (GUI) of a PDF reader application. The difference between signing visible and invisible signatures with DBsign is that for visible signatures, the PDF document must contain a named blank signature field, and DBsign must be given the name of that signature field. For more information see the DBsign for HTML Applications Integration Manual.
